WITH SARAH CLEVELY

This workshop is designed as an introduction to the SE work of Peter Levine. It is for anyone seeking to increase their understanding of their own personal trauma and the process of recovery. We will be using both S.E. and Mindfulness skills as practical 'Resources' to help integrate traumatic events.

“In transforming and releasing ourselves from trauma, we must face.... an uncertain world. It is a world stripped of the illusion of safety, and it obliges us to learn an entirely new way of being. We discover... our Heroic Energies. And they can be harnessed! They are the wellspring of our creative, artistic, and poetic sensibilities, and the wholeness of our intelligence”

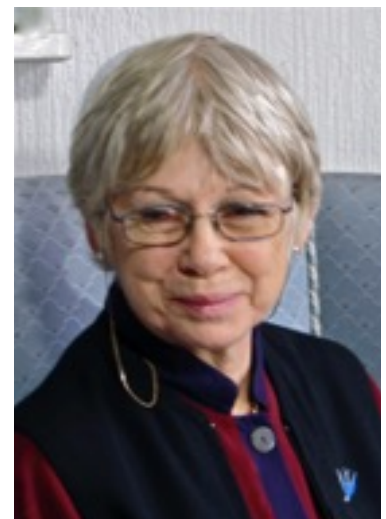

P.Levine 'Healing Trauma'.

Sarah Clevely Is a UKCP registered Psychotherapist with 25 years experience. She teaches Mindfulness in Exeter both privately and for the Sharpham Trust, and is an approved Supervisor for students on the Exeter University Mindfulness program. She trained on the the first UK Trauma (Somatic Experiencing) program in London and has assisted on subsequent training for nine years. She works in Exeter and Malvern.
